

New York State Archaeological Association

Fall 2021 Digital Lecture Series

Tuesday, November 9th at 7 pm:

Privies and Such:

A Report on Archaeological Investigations in the Lower East Side

In this presentation, Dr. Allison McGovern will discuss the results of recent archaeological investigations carried out in the Lower East Side of NYC. This neighborhood became home to a sizable European-Jewish population in the late 19th century, and a methodology was developed for investigating the archaeological potential for most of one city-block in relation to this history. The results of the investigation shed light on development and redevelopment of the neighborhood, and its impacts on archaeological traces at an urban site.

Please Register to attend:

https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZctduyrqz4iGNOEvN_C9wQG5bw6L5IDNedL

Allison McGovern, Ph.D.

Robert D.L. Gardiner
Writing Fellow at the Gotham Center for New York City History

