

Case Studies in the Colonialist World of Mandate-Era Archaeology: A Tell en-Naşbeh (Palestine) Trilogy

Jeffrey Zorn, PhD.

Near Eastern Studies

Cornell University

Labib
Sorial

Boulos
el-'Araj

Berberi
Mahmoud Aisa

March 11, 2026
5:30 pm

the History Center
110 North Tioga

Archaeologists have begun to wrestle with their part in the western colonialist enterprise of the last few centuries. This presentation explores how three Middle Eastern archaeologists, whose careers intersected at Tell en-Naşbeh (near Ramallah) in 1929, navigated the social dynamics of western-led excavation hierarchies.

hosted by the Finger Lakes Chapter of the New York State Archaeological Association